Gave Wyatt the Slip.

Theodore Brown and William Ropert, two members of the chain gang, went out as usual to work on the streets yesterday morning, but they came back in a rather unusual manner. The gang was put to work on Upper Broadway, but it began to rain and they were taken into a shed out of the wet. Brown and Ropert quietly "made a sneak" when the attention of Officer Wyatt was turned the other way, and although chained together they skipped for the Blaffs at a double quick. The officer could not then leave his other charges, but he soon procured a horse and started in pursuit. He tracked the fugitives through the mud and finally discovered them hiding behind some bushes. Ropert was in-clined to resist capture and picked up a stone with which to assault the officer, when the latter clubbed him over the head. That took the starch out of him and the two were then marched back to juil, being compelled to hold up their hands all the way. The procession attracted considerable attention as it filed

The Commencement Exercises.

The graduating exercises of the Council Bluffs high school class of '90 were held last evening at Dohany's. It was the twentieth annual commencement and the exercises were far more pleasing and interesting than those which preceded them. This was owing, perhaps, to a radical change in the programme, which was a decided innovation. Instead of the stereotyped essays and orations to which an indulgent audience has been wont to listen for hours, last evening's programme consisted mainly of instrumental music and an address by Rev. Dr. Duryea of Omaha. The Stryken-Blaas-last club rendered two very fine selections, and Miss Laura A. Couch gave a piano solo. Two choruses by the members of the school, with the introductory remarks by the school, with the introductory remarks by Mr. Schoentgen, chairman of the teachers' committee, and the presentation of diplomas by Superintendent McNaughton, completed the programme. The house was literally packen, and it was almost an impossibility to secure even standing room. The stage was beautifully decorated with cut-flowers, follage plants and the floral tributes presented to the graduates. presented to the graduates. In the rear center of the stage was a large floral arch bearing the inscription "Many Paths," and underneath was very expressively wrought out the remainder of the class motto, "One Gate." Mr. Schoentgen's remarks were very brief

Dr. Duryea spoke for nearly an hour, but was listened to with the closest attention. To attempt to reproduce a part of his remarks would only be to do an injustice to the whole. At the close the class presented him with a magnificent basis of flowers.

ANOTHER CASE OF BABY KIDNAPPING.

The Barbers' War is Only Just Begun -The Chain Gang Makes a Break -A Rooster's Unusual Ride -General and Personal.

The republican judicial convention of the Ninth judicial district of Iowa met yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the north court room of the county court house. In the absence of Chairman D. O. Stuart of the judicial central committee H. C. Watkins of Mills county, at the request of the committee, called the convention to order.

Judge Stockton of Page county was elected temporary chairman and Shirley Gilliland of Mills county temporary secretary,

On motion the following committee on credentials, comprising one delegate from each county in the district, was then appointed: Audubon, W. R. Green; Cass, Julian Phelps; Fremont, W. H. Roberts; Mills, W. M. Evans; Montgomery, G. M. Cline; Page, William Anderson; Pottawattamie, A. S.

Evans, Montgomery, G. M. Cine, Page, William Andersen; Pottawattamie, A. S. Hazelton; Shelby, R. M. Pomeroy. The following were appointed as a commit-tee on organization; Andubon, F. E. Springer; Cass, F. J. Macomber; Fremont, Dr. Sanborn; Mills, H. C. Watkins; Mont-gomery, Gosdman Kink; Page, James Me-Cabe; Pottawattamie, Frank Shina; Shelby, John Higgins. John Higgins.

The committee on credentials reported the names of delegates entitled to a seat in the convention and recommended that each county should be allowed to cast the vote of about delegate. alsent delegates. The report, was received and concurred in.

The committee on permanent organization reported in favor of making the temperary rganization permanent, which was done. On motion of I. N. Flickinger of Pottawattamic county the clerk was instructed to call the roll of counties to present the names of candidates. All the counties passed with the exception of Fremont, Montgomery and Pot-tawattamie, which presented the names of Hon. A. B. Thornell, Hon. H. E. Deemer and Walter I. Smith respectively.
On motion of C. M. Harl of Pottawattamie

these three gentlemen were declared the nominees of the convention for the office of listrict judge by acclamation.

district judge by acclamation.

The names of the following gentlemen were presented as members of the judicial central committee: Audubon. W. R. Green; Fremont. A. V. Penn; Mills, Shirley Gillihand; Montgomery, J. M. Junkin; Page, H. E. Parcelle; Poltawattamie, C. G. Saunders; Shelby, Cyrus Beard.

This concluded the business proper of the convention and loud calls were made for the convention. W. I. Smith was the first to renominees. W. I. Smith was the first to respond. He thanked the convention for the honor conferred upon Lim and gave a brief review of those who had previously filled the position of judge in this district. He premised to do his duty if elected.

ised to do his duty if elected.

Judge Thornell then came forward in response to repeated calls, and said that one of the lawyers in the back part of the court room had told him that he had been talking during the past four years when they didn't want him to, but that now he must talk when he didn't want to. He said that the situation reminded him of the school bay who was asked by the teacher, to school bey who was asked by the teacher to speel wheepingcough. It was a puzzler for the boy, and he finally exclaimed, "See here, teacher, that ain't fair. I had my spell last vinter." It seemed to him that he 'had his spell last winter." He declared that he was a republican and liked the principles of that party, but he was of the opinion that the convention would believe him when he stated that if re-elected to the district bench he would discharge his duties as during the past four years in a manner free from any political preferences or prejudices. He thanked the convention for the faith they had manifested

Judge Deemer was then called for, but Chairman Stockton stated that that gentle-man was disabled and unable to be present. Mr. Gilliland then insisted that Judge Carson should be heard, as he was about to retire, and tell the convention why he had refused to be a candidate for another term. The judge responded, and said he had known the three nominees for many years and know them all to be upright, hardworking. onscientions gentlemen. He was pleased to see them nominated by the convention, and hoped that their choice would be ratified at the polls. As for himself, he thought that his duty to himself and his family was paramount to any obligation to the people. His health had been failing for over a year, and he felt that on that account he must decline be a candidate for another term. A motion to adjourn was then made and

After the convention adjourned the newly elected members of the central committee met in the judge's room and selected C. G. Saunders of this county as chairman.

The convention was one of the most har-nonious ever held in the district; in fact, as monous ever head in the district; in fact, as a prominent democratic spectator remarked:

"There was no use in helding it, only just to go through the necessary form."

The nominations are very satisfactory in the city, and several of the delegates who were heard to express an opinion declared that they knew they would be just as satisfactory in outside counties, and in fact all over the district. Judges Deemer and Thornell are both very nominar, by reason of Thornell are both very popular by reason of their records on the bench, and Mr. Smith, who is booked as Judge Carson's successor, a very popular young man and is sure of a marty support.

Said one of the delegates: "The democrats will probably single out one of the three, whom they will try to defeat. They can't beat them all, and will undoubledly concentrate their energies. They won't tackle Judge Deconer, as he has a very strong hold and is intensely popular, especially with the young mon all over the district. Judge Thornell will offer a more promising opening for them, and I expect to see them make their fight on him, but it won't do them a bit of good. Judge Deemer will get democratic votes both here in the city and among the farmers, as he is one of the most thoroughly concien as he is one of the most thoroughly concien-tious men ever on the bench. It wouldn't do for them to try to beat Smith. They might try the 'kid dodge' and claim that he was too young, but that very thing would roll up votes for him. We have an example right in this district. Judge Deemer was under thirty when elected and he has made an ex-cellent man on the bench. The same is true cellent man on the bench. The same is true of Judge Kayanaugh of Des Moines. I tell you it is getting to be very popular to put young men on the bench, and it has worked first rate so far. We will elect all three of the nominees?"

the nominees. "That was a fine looking body of men," declared a leading democratic attorney, re-ferring to the convention. "There were nore lawyers than I expected to see, for the our all over the district was well represented. I wouldn't mind getting a nomination myself from such a lot of men, for they sized up a great deal better than the usual convention."

Tried For Kidnapping.

The colored population held a levee yester-day afternoon in Justice Schurz' court room. The case that called out such a large proportion of the colored population was that of the State vs. Mrs. McDonald, the defendant being charged with kidnapping. It seems that McDonald and his wife have had more or less trouble, and the result of it is this case. The testimony introduced showed that McDounld's sister, Mrs. Clay, and left it was unable to care for her baby, and left it with the McDonalds, with the understanding with the McDonalds, with the understanding that it was to remain there as long as the husband and wife lived together. When internal dissentions wrecked the peace of the McDonald family, the troubles of the Clay infant began. Mrs. McDonald took the child to Omaha, and her husband caused her arrest on the charge above mentioned. The woman came back without a requisition, and ewing to the fact that the prescenting witness was not ready for trial the prisoner was sent to the county jail. After hearing all of the evidence yesterday afternoon, the justice found himself as much in the dark as ever regarding the true state of affairs, and de-clared that he would have to take a little time to think it over. The case is now held War Among the Barbers. Fritz Bernhardi opines that the Sunday closing war has only just begun. He proposes to appeal the case which Judge McGee recently decided against him, and he has a very strong backing among the citizens who think that Sunday closing is a nuisance. They want an opportunity to have their chins polished on Sunday morning whenever the occasion demands it, and they hold that it is occasion demands it, and they hold that it is almost if not quite a necessity. He proposes to open Sunday mornings, and the barbers' union give it out that they will have him arrested again if he does. Both sides want the matter finally settled one way or the other, the only question being which way.

Tom Savage's Rooster. Engineer Tom Savage, who runs on the Northwestern limited, would scorn to raid a chicken coop, or under ordinary circumstances appropriate anything that did not belong to him, but he has just acquired possession of a rooster in a somewhat remarkable manner. He was pulling the limited westward Wednesday morning, and whizzed through the town of Woodbine at a rate of forty-five or fifty miles an hour. It so happens that the rooster with whom this story has to deal was accustomed to crowing in Woodbine every morning, and on Wednesday stalked over to the depot to see the limited go through. It took a position in the middle of the track, and did not discover that the location was an unfavorable one until the train was almost upon it, when it tried to fly out of the way, but was unsuccessful and was dashed against the boiler head. Savdashed against the boiler head, Savage supposed that the bird was killed and left beside the track.
The train did not stop until it reached Misseart Valley, and then pulled out again for the Bluffs. The surprise of the engineer can be imagined when he went around the front of his engine after reaching this city to find the venturesome bird roosting just back of the pilot and hanging on with teeth and toe-nails after its ride of thirty-five miles. It was above stated he would not rob a hen roost, he deems everything legal plunder that is caught on the fly. It is dollars to dimes that a Woodbine constable could not get that bird with a writ of replevin. Desirable dwellings located in all parts of the city, for rent by E. H. The Federal Election Bill.

Washington, June 19.-The chairman of the committee on the election of president, vice president and representatives today submitted the report of the committee on the federal election bill drafted in pursuance of the instructions of the caucus. On the quession as to the power of congress to enact such egislation the report declared it was absolute and complete under the constitution. As to the expediency and need of such measure the report says in part: The committee deem it sufficient to say here that they believe that fraud, violence and corruption exist to such a degree and popular confidence has been so largely snaken in regard to elections in many congressional districts that they have as little doubt of the expediency of such a measure as this which they propose as they have of the full and absolute power of congress to enact legislation of this kind whenever circumstances seem, as they do now, imperatively to Governor Ferry of Washington has appointed Will L. Visscher, editor of the Fairhaven Herald and well known in Omaha, Assistant Herald and well known in Omaha, Assistant commissary-general on the governor's staff, with the rank of colonel. The editor thus comments: "There are those who think there is something suggestive in this, but the governer in not so uncharitable as those who would judge one's habits by the bue of his nose. Moreover, Napoleon always chose for his marshals men with large noses, and if this held well in this country the Herald editor would be general of the army. At London-Sighted: The Aller, from FATETTE, Mo., June 19.-Hon. John Heard it is the minister who dictates terms to the church." This was the way in lyn church express his conviction that tion calling a minister to a pulpit and hearing what he could say for himself was about done away with, provided the minister is a first-class preacher, says the New York Sun. This conclusion has also been reached by the tweive church members comprising the trustees and prominent officials in the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church, formerly ministered to by the Rev. Dr. Theodor L. Cuyler. Dr. Cuyler resigned in April last, and since that time the church has been easting about for a fiting successor. Dr. Cuyler continues to supply the pulpit, but does no pastoral work in the parish. The means taken by the committee to learn of the talent and general litness of a preacher for the Lafayette avenue church partakes of the nature of detective work. "It must be confessed," said the trustee to the reporter, "the reason for the change from the old method of bringing a minister before us to our hunting one up lies in the fact that there are comparatively few A 1 ministers nowadays. Congregations grow in size, grow enormously rich sometimes, but the number of good prenchers does not grow proportionately. You can't get a minister of any prominence newadays to I submit to the old system where he was before the congregation and ealled tested. He knows he is on exhibition, and he feels it. It has been a system always abhored by ministers, and now that there is such a senecity of good ministers, any one of them would let us know in a way we wouldn't forget if we should summon him to go on exhibition for the benefit of people who happen to be in church on the morning he preached.

"This tendency in churches," continued the church trustee, "exists not only in Presbyterian and Congregation d and other churches without bishops, but also in the Protestant Episcopal and Methodist Episcopal churches and all others except the church of Rome. When a minister finds a church he likes it's pretty difficult for the higher powers of the church to order him to a pasture where the pickings are lean.
"In the Lafayette avenue church we have got the system of hunting up a minister down to a fine point. We meet at one of the committeemen's houses in the latter part of every week and sit behind locked doors. Then we decide what churches each of us is to visit on the coming Sunday, On Friday or Saturday we scatter. If a committeeman has to ge to Chicago, St. Louis or St. Paul he starts earlier in the week. No one knows when we start. Our families do not know where we are going when we leave town. Our secreey is maintained in order that no minister may learn that we are coming his way and prepare an extra fine sermon for his flock, ostensibly preaching to them but really talking for a big increase of salary. One of the things to be avoided in the former sys-tem was the fact that the candidate put on an extra burst of speed and the congregation didn't know how he would turn out when he got down to his regular gait. The visitor to the church selected lips unperceived into a seat in the rear of the auditorium, and uses his ears and eyes like a reporter.

"The committee, on returning to Brooklyn, meet and compare notes, and, on a very favorable report of a certain minister, several members visit the church and hear him. This is as far as we have got. When we are sure we can recommend a minister to the church, a meeting of the members will be quietl called, and the chairman of the commit tee will set forth the reasons for inviting a certain minister to become the paster. An affirmative vote of a majority will settle it, and he will be invited. Ver likely he will be a very much surprised man when he gets the invitation, for i national convention tonight elected as president Robert Griffith of Chicago, The next meeting will be held in Cincinnati. will be untrammelied in its nature as re gards any dictation by the officers of the church. This was the course pursued in getting Dr. Meredith of the Tompkins Avenue Congregational church, and the result proves its wisdom. You see, the system gives the church a wider field to raze over in the same time than the aid method. Dr. Cuyler's successor will probably not be chosen until fall."
